WINDOWS DOORS & CONSERVATORIES

Buying with Confidence

Replacing your windows, doors, soffits and fascias or adding a conservatory to your home can be a minefield. Choosing the wrong company can leave you with nightmares.....

Campion Glass have put together seven easy to follow steps that you can follow to make the right choice.

Step 1

Ensure that the company is a member of the Glass and Glazing Federation (GGF), FENSA and if buying a conservatory, The Conservatory Association.

Step 2

Use a company whose fitters are both qualified and employed by the company (not sub-contracted)

Step 3

Look for a company that manufactures and fabricates its own products and will gladly show you round its manufacturing facilities and not just the showroom

Step 4

Look for a company that gives a full and comprehensive 10 year guarantee that's insurance backed. Not one that's on a sliding scale for certain items. ie. only 12 months on handles.

Step 5

Ask how long the company has been in business; a good sign is that it's been in business longer than the guarantee period.

Step 6

Check that all PVCu frames are internally glazed, fully reinforced, shoot bolt locking and glazed with 24mm double glazed units

Step 7

Be cautious of making your decision on price alone, you must take into account quality, service and price to make sure you are getting true value for money.

At Campion Glass we not only supply and install PVCu but we also manufacture and install hardwood and aluminium products
